ditional List of Dead.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—(Bulletin.)—Five hundred and eighty-two bodies are at the various morgues today. Three hundred and ninety-three have been identified, but the remainder, 189, are still unrecognizable. Detectives are searching the city today for three men who are believed to have had a share in the blame for the Iroquois theater horror. Every train leaving the city is being watched to prevent their departure. All the men connected with the management of the ill-fated house are under surveillance.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Of the dead 471 have been so far identified. The injuries of 171 persons have required attention and 347 are still reported missing. As only about 80 bodies are still unidentified, many of the men, women and children who were reported to the police as missing have doubtless recovered from their fright and returned to their homes.

OHIO PEOPLE DEAD.
Chicago, Jan. 1.—It was ascertained this morning that all of the Rankins, Mrs. Davall and Mrs. Merriam of Zanesville, perished in the theatre fire, the remains of all having been identified.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—For the first time since Chicago has possessed bells to peal, whistles to shriek and horns to blow, the old year was allowed silently to take its place in history and the new year permitted to come, with no evidence of joy at its birth.

In an official proclamation issued by Mayor Carter H. Harrison, he made the suggestion that the usual New Year's eve celebration be for this time omitted. The idea found a ready response in the hearts of the people, and the mayor's words, in fact, only gave utterance to the unexpressed thoughts that had filled them all.

The appalling calamity in the Iroquois theater has cast Chicago into the deepest grief and gloom and for the time being, at least, seems to have chilled and deadened all the ordinary ambitions of life.

Ordinarily, on New Year's eve, the streets of the city are filled with merry makers, but last night the only throngs to be found were those around the morgues; ordinarily, numbers of fashionable restaurants in the heart of the city are filled with light-hearted revellers, who toast the year that passes and hail the year that comes. Last night these places were comparatively deserted, and some of them closed entirely, with doors locked and curtains drawn. Usually among these gay people are found many members of the theatrical profession. Last night not a single one of them was in evidence.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Criminal negligence may be shown in the theatre holocaust. The coroner's jury is making a thorough investigation. Seven theatre employees have been arrested. The jurors, in inspecting the stage, frequently remarked that the protection against fire seemed to have been inadequate. Juror Finn remarked: "These doors are much too small; they should have been three times as large."

Coroner Tracer pointed to the balcony rail, which was bent in several places, and said that a number of spectators had jumped through these openings to the lower floor. An inspection was then made of the exits leading to the fire escapes and the jurors were told that the bodies of the dead were piled ten feet high in front of these doors when the police reached the scene after the fire.

"If those doors were locked, somebody was criminally negligent," said Juror Finn. "The exits are too small, anyway," said Foreman Meyer, as he measured the doors leading to the fire escapes.

In both balconies there were hundreds of gruesome relics of the catastrophe scattered between the seats where they had been dropped by the terrified victims. There were a score or more of rubber shoes, muffs, handkerchiefs, gloves, children's wooden hoods and mittens. A gold trimmed comb was found with the inscription, "From Jack to Little, Christmas, 1903."

Under one seat was found a tin, doil, which had evidently been taken to the theatre by a little girl. The jurors were deeply affected by the sight as they sorted over the relics.

A few questions to which the jury will endeavor to obtain satisfactory answers at the inquest are:

"Were the steel doors leading to the fire escapes on the first and second balconies locked when the fire broke out?"

"If they were locked, were they opened promptly by the attendants?"

"Why was it impossible to lower the asbestos curtain?"

"Why did the management permit the use of arc lights in the flies with no device to prevent sparks from the carbons igniting the borders of the scenery and curtain?"

"Why did the ushers shut all the doors and urge the audience to remain seated after the fire broke out instead of doing everything possible to empty the house?"

EMPLOYEES ARRESTED.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Seven employees of the Iroquois theater were arrested last night on orders issued by Chief of Police O'Neill. The charge against them is at present that of being accessory to manslaughter.

They will be held pending the verdict of the coroner's jury.

The men arrested are: William Carl-ton, stage manager; Edward Cummings, stage carpenter; Frank Jam-drow, R. M. Cummings, E. Engle, Thomas McQueen and S. J. Mazoni. The last five are stage hands and scene shifters.

After being taken in custody by the police, four of the men told Chief O'Neill that they had been requested by people connected with the theatre to leave the city.

When asked who advised them to do this, they at first refused to say, but later admitted that the advice was given by Assistant Stage Manager Plunkitt.

They said they were about to follow Plunkitt's advice, and all of them had packed their trunks and would have been out of the city had not the police arrested them.

Alderman John E. Scully, after an inspection of the ruins charged that there had been no asbestos fire curtain in the ill-fated playhouse.

ADDITIONAL DEAD.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Below is given an additional list of the dead to date 1. This list will be found the names of

An Aging Maid to New Year:

FIGHT summers long have dragged since I
Let slip my leap year right of wooing;
As brightens now the New Year sky
I hasten to be up and doing.

A bashful lass in ninety-six,
Adored by bashful beaux a-plenty,
I would not in the man hunt mix,
For, pshaw, methought, I'm only twenty!

I could, perchance, at twenty-four
Have offered heart and hand to any,
But nineteen hundred barred the door
Of leap year privilege to Fanny.

Not in a hundred years before
Had Eve's poor daughters thus been cheated;
Not till they count two hundred more
Can like defrauding be repeated.

Oh, what a most unlucky year
That saw my baby eyes a-blinking!
But vain the moan and weak the tear,
And foolish all this bitter thinking!

Let me be brave! The proverb says
In words designed for maids unhappy.
Like me, accursed with weight of days,
That faint heart never won a chappie.

My curling tongs and powder puff,
My ribbons, lace and like delusions
Should be artihery enough
With Luck today to try conclusions.

Then, be he young or somewhat gray
(In charms I'm sure that I shall match him),
The bachelor first seen today—
I think perhaps I'll try to catch him.

Be stern, my heart, and fear to spare!
In firmness let not steel outrank you.
Let him escape us? Let him dare!
My candid looking glass, I thank you.

P. J. TANSEY.

DOZEN ARRESTS.
Chicago, Jan. 1.—The police up to date have made 12 arrests in order to make a further detailed inquiry into the theatre fire. The prisoners were locked up at the Harrison street police station as rapidly as they were arrested. At first they were "held as witnesses," but later the charge of manslaughter was preferred against them. These under arrest are Wm. Carlton, stage manager; Wm. Plunkitt, assistant stage manager; Frank Polir, electrician; Frank Jamdrow, carpenter; Max Mazanovich, carpenter; Fred Pigeon alias Nolan, carpenter; Fred Engle, stage hand; Thomas McQueen, stage hand; Wm. Stack, actor; Samuel Bull, actor; Victor Bozart, actor; Edward Wines, actor. They will be released under bonds.

A GIRL'S DESCRIPTION.
Chicago, Jan. 1.—Miss Marie Peters, daughter of Mrs. George Peters of Columbus, Ohio, had a miraculous escape from the theatre. Miss Peters was spending the holidays with her sister Mrs. Garabaty at Evanston, coming from school at Washington, and with Miss Charlotte E. Hammon, of Chicago, Miss Elsie Elmore of Astoria, Ore., and Miss Josephine Edoy of Evanston, Ill., made up a gay box party. Miss Plamondon was the first to be partly to notice the fire, which crept along the top of the drop curtain. She called the attention of other members of her party to the flame and they all watched it. Miss Plamondon said: "I could see little boys and girls in the orchestra chairs pointing toward the slowly moving line of fire. One of the stage hands wearing overalls appeared before the footlights and requested the audience to keep their seats as there was no danger.

"Eddie Foy then hurried to the front and commanded the people to remain calm, saying that if they would keep their seats the danger would be averted. The curtain, however, still burning, pieces of the smoldering cloth falling into the orchestra pit. An effort was made by the stage hands to arrange the curtain so that the blazing fragments would not fall into the pit.

"I looked over the faces of the audience and remarked how many children were present. I could see their faces filled with interest, and their eyes wide open, as they watched the burning curtain.

"Just then the people in the balcony rose to their feet and crowded forward to obtain a better view of the fire. Eddie Foy rushed to the center of the stage and waved his arms in a gesture meaning for the people to be seated.

"At that instant a woman in the rear of the place screamed 'Fire!' and the entire audience of women and children rose to their feet, filled with uncontrollable terror. In another instant there was a confused roar made by a thousand people as they rushed madly from the impending danger.

"On the stage the chorus girls, who had aroused my admiration because of their exhibition of presence of mind, turned to flee, but many of them were overcome before they could take a step. Several of them fell to the floor and I saw the men in the east and stage hands carry them off the stage.

"Miss Elsie Elmore was the first to leave our box. The upholstering on the railing was then on fire and we were compelled to brush the fragments of the burning curtain from our clothing in order to prevent them catching fire.

"Then there came a great roar, and a great draft of air, and the flames shot out over the parquette of the theatre until it seemed to me as though they must reach the very front walls of the building.

"There were but few men in the audience, but I saw several of them pulling and pushing women and children, aside as they fought like demons to reach the exits. I saw a number of little children trampled under foot and none of them arose again. In the balcony the scene was beyond my power to describe.

"There was a big black crush of human beings, each one apparently fighting everybody else. The balcony was so steep that many fell before they had left the first four rows of seats. The exits to the fire escape were choked and those in the rear had to hold with all the strength they possessed upon those who were nearest the doorway.

"It was almost incredible the speed with which the flames ran through the scenery and although I was not a seer, and after Miss Elmore in jumping over the railing of our box to the balcony in front, the stage was a mass of flames. As I started up the aisle, a man rushed into me and lay flat on the floor.

"I was so stricken that I could not think and sank into one of the orchestra chairs and after that I have not been able to recall the details of the horror. I saw a man in a white shirt and dark trousers running toward the glass and panels in front of the stage. There were not tempt to avoid a large space for the exit of the people.

"Many fell as they reached the doors, where a few steps more would have carried them to the fresh air and safety. As I look at it now I must have been walking on prostrate bodies as I struggled through the opening.

"All our party escaped in about the same manner as I did, but all of them suffered so terribly in the matter of clothing that the first thing they did was to rush to the stores to buy wraps to cover them."

THE OHIO VICTIMS.
Delaware, O., Jan. 1.—As stated in yesterday's Advocate, David Battenfield, the cigar manufacturer, was called to Chicago by a dispatch from his brother-in-law, J. F. Dodd, whose wife was a victim of the theatre fire.

Mr. Dodd himself is a resident of Delaware and his wife and daughter, Ruth, are among the missing. All of Mr. Battenfield's family, including his wife, son, Robert and daughter, Ruth, are thought to have been at the theatre Wednesday afternoon. The two stricken families are among the best society people of this city.

Mr. F. F. Dodd of this city, who is among the killed at the fatal Chicago fire, was 45 years of age and had resided here for 17 years. She was a native of Coshocton county, O.

Mr. Dodd's death was under particularly sad circumstances. She and her family had gone to Chicago for a family reunion at the home of her sister, Mrs. Owen. Other members of the circle of relatives are thought to have composed the theatre party and all are missing. They were brothers and sisters of Mrs. Dodd and comprised the following persons: Charles Murray, of Martinsburg, Knox county, Ohio; Wm. Murray, of Polleppan, Iowa; Miss Radwell, of Martinsburg, O.; Mrs. D. H. Battenfield, of this city, and her two children. If the worst comes true it will mean practically the wiping out of two generations of one family.

Besides seven Delaware people already reported dead or missing, it is feared here that William McLaughlin, student of the Ohio Wesleyan University, is among the victims.

He left here several days ago to visit at Dr. Frank Gunsaulus in Chicago, and intended to go to this performance. His parents are missionaries living in Buenos-Aires, South America.

DR. RANKIN'S COUSIN.
Columbus, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Elizabeth Buvall and little daughter, and Mrs. Edward Rankin and daughter of Zanesville, who were in the audience at the Iroquois theatre fire, are cousins of Dr. T. W. Rankin of Columbus. Dr. Rankin is well known in Newark and is reported among the missing.

A J. Evans, the owner, has received word that Mrs. Stephen P. Jones and six children had escaped from the burning theatre. Mrs. Jones is a sister of Mr. Evans.

Miss Marie Peters also of this city succeeded in getting out of the theatre safely.

THE NEW YEAR.
Chicago, Jan. 1.—The new year was greeted in Chicago with the usual hoarse, a crowd of people gathered in the city streets, but the celebration was somewhat quiet.

There were not many people in the streets, and the celebration was somewhat quiet.

SITUATION HAS LULLED

But it May be the Quiet Just Before the Storm-- Statement of Russia's Case Against Japan is Laid Before Lord Lansdown.

PORT SAID, JAN. 1.—(Bulletin.)—RUSSIAN TRANSPORT KAZAN, WITH 2,000 TROOPS ON BOARD, PASSED THROUGH THE SUEZ CANAL TODAY BOUND PORT SAID.

London, Jan. 1.—There is little news regarding the far east from any quarter this morning. The situation has lulled but whether it is the quiet which precedes the breaking of the storm, coming events alone can tell. Some comment has been caused by an article which appeared in the Birmingham Post this morning. The paper asserts that the Russian ambassador yesterday laid before Lord Lansdown, secretary for foreign affairs, a full statement of Russia's case against Japan in Korea. Russia says the paper wishes to avoid raising the question of Manchuria and is apparently resolved that if there is to be a case bell it will be found in the Korean question. Another indication that Russia intends to push her campaign against the Japanese in Korea is found in the report received last night stating that Russia intended to ask the Korean government for a lease of Masampo for use as a naval station.

London, Jan. 1.—Added activity in the British shipyards indicates that the government is preparing for eventualities in the far East. Hurry orders have been issued to get several warships in shape for foreign service at once, and shipyard artisans are working overtime to carry out the instructions. The British third-class cruisers In-trepid and Latona have been docked at the Portsmouth dock in preparation for foreign service. It is understood that they will proceed to China.

It is asserted in Dublin that a number of naval reserve men of that district have been instructed to be in readiness to embark on the third-class cruiser Melampus, if the mobilization of the reservists is ordered.

The position of Japan is now one of expectancy. She is ready for either peace or war, and the selection of which it is to be rests entirely with Russia. One thing only seems certain: Japan will have Korea or she will fight, and she does not propose to wait for Russia's convenience for an answer. While no absolute time limit has been set for an answer to Japan's last note to Russia, the general impression is that unless an answer is received within a very few days Japan will begin a forward movement on Korea. The indications are that Russia is not in a position to offer any effective opposition to this move.

No doubt it felt here that China will co-operate with Japan in case of war. The fact that Japanese officers have been training the Chinese troops, and that the Chinese realize that they have less to fear from Japan than from Russia makes this certain in the minds of those who keep posted in these matters.

NEW YEAR RECEPTION

At White House Not Attended by Colombian Representative--If Government Follows Gen. Reyes' Advice There Will be no Conflict.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Colombia will not be represented at the New Year reception, nor will President Roosevelt receive the good wishes of the Bogota government today. General Reyes, the special envoy, has asked to be excused from attendance in view of the present situation, and Dr. Herrera, the Colombian charge, who is not at Washington, will also be absent. This decision of the Colombian officials is not attended in any aggressive way, but after a careful consideration of the matter they think it the appropriate course to pursue.

If the Colombian government follows the advice of General Reyes all idea of the breaking out of hostilities between that country and the United States may be dissipated. Even though a half dozen tin horns within "the loop." Merry makers were quiet when in the streets, and subdued even in the restaurants. There were mourning families in every neighborhood, crepe in every street and grief-stricken relatives throughout the city. The citizens did not need to be requested to be quiet. January 1, 1904, meant the beginning of funerals and burial of dead who might have lived to take part in the merry making last night. The city had identified 754 of its 578 dead. Today and tomorrow it will bury them.

Loss of Life.
(Communicated.)

The papers claim that the Chicago Iroquois theatre disaster was vastly more destructive to human life than any other playhouse fire in the history of the world. Allow me to call your attention to the terrible catastrophe that is, all the city of Vienna, Austria, Hungary, on Thursday, December 8, 1881, in the burning of the Ring theatre. The number of lives lost was estimated at 700.

I also beg leave to state that the Ashtabula bridge disaster did not occur 27 years ago. That sad event happened on Saturday night, December 1, 1876. The entire train was plunged into the river below a distance of 75 feet. The wreckage took fire and many were burned beyond recognition.

The above facts were taken from an old "strag book."

(In the Ring theatre, Vienna, Austria, in 1881, four hundred and forty-seven people, according to information at hand—1881.)

PARIS BAZAAR FIRE.
The Paris bazaar fire in which 500 people were killed in 1871, was caused by a candle which had been left burning in the bazaar.

MRS. COLE'S FUNERAL.
Chicago, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Edna M. Cole, mother of Mr. Robert M. Cole, will be buried tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

the reply of this government to the note of General Reyes may not be of a nature to afford him much comfort, he stated today that he would use all the influence in his power to prevail upon his government to refrain from any hostile demonstration toward the United States. A war with the United States, he declared, would result only in disaster to Colombia. Whether or not he will submit counterpropositions to the reply of Mr. Hay, General Reyes is unable to say until he has received the document and gone over it in detail. He said today, however, that should his original contentions not be sustained, the probability is that he will continue the exchange of diplomatic notes with the view to obtaining as many concessions from the United States as possible.

AROUND WORLD

New Year Greeting Started from Washington the Instant the Old Year 1903 Died.

Washington, Jan. 1, 1904.—On the stroke of the midnight hour, Washington time, the exact second which marked the end of the old and the beginning of the new year, was clicked from the United States Naval Observatory over thousands of miles of telegraph wires and cables. In far-off Alaska and distant Guam the birth of 1904 was recorded broadcast outside the confines of the United States.

The click of the delicate instrument at the naval observatory went two-thirds of the way around the globe. Special arrangements had been made with all the cables and telegraph, except the Eastern Telegraph company which operates wires east of Great Britain to India, to make connections with the Naval Observatory to read the electric spark bearing the message announcing the birth of the new year. The Eastern Telegraph company was loaded with commercial business, which prevented it from complying with the request of the Naval Observatory; otherwise the message would have gone completely around the world.

At 11:55 p. m. Lieutenant Commander Hayden assisted by Rear Admiral C. M. Chester, connected the delicate instrument in the Naval Observatory with the telegraph wire, and each second was clicked off to the 50th second by thousands of instruments. The click of the instruments was heard in North and South America, Europe, Asia and Africa. There was then a pause of five seconds and one second to the midnight hour the ball fell sending the greeting of the greeting of the United States to the world.

THE NEWARK Y. M. C. A.

Has Enjoyed Growth and Prosperity During the Past Year But Still Better Things Are Planned - Review of the Work of This Splendid Newark Institution.

The Newark Young Men's Christian Association is an institution of which the people of this city have a right to feel proud. Housed in its own building at the corner of Church and Third streets, equipped as few associations of the state are, managed by a Board of Trustees that is wide awake and conscious of the needs and enjoyments of young men, with an educated, popular, energetic man for its general secretary in the person of Mr. A. A. Ebersole, ably assisted by Mr. W. J. Graef, with a thoroughly capable and extremely popular man in charge of the physical department, Mr. E. G. Fitzgerald, the Association is in fine condition. Its growth the past year has been remarkable, the work accomplished has been far reaching but for the year upon which we enter today still greater things are planned for this Newark institution.

Every young man of the city ought to enjoy membership in the Y. M. C. A. and take advantage of the many opportunities that are offered there.

Membership.

On the night of October 9, the membership committee met at supper and outlined a membership campaign for the fall months. The membership at that time they found to be just 575. This they undertook to raise to 675 by January 1, 1904. Through the united efforts of the committee, the members of the Association and the Board of Trustees who have enlisted a number of new contributing members this year, the 675 mark has been reached and passed. Enough additional members have been received the last few days to make up the loss from expirations January 1. So that the Association enters the new year with an actual membership of 673, classified as follows:

Regular 488.
Junior 112.
Contributing 73.
One year ago it will be remembered, by heroic efforts the membership was brought up to 500 by New Year's day. Today, just one year later the Association has 673 members—a splendid year's growth.

The Advocate has been asked to say that still larger things are to be undertaken in the near future. The Board of Trustees have approved a schedule submitted by the Membership Committee for organizing a "World's Fair Membership Tournament."

Complete announcements for this Tournament will be made in a few days.

Educational.

Fifty seven different men have been attending the six different educational classes during the fall months.

Fifteen in Mechanical Drawing.

Ten in German.

Ten in English and Business Correspondence.

Seven in Book Keeping.

Seven in Arithmetic.

Eight in Vocal Music.

These classes have met twice a week for ten weeks.

The second term of ten weeks begins next Monday, January 4.

A year ago only about thirty men attended educational classes.

Physical Department.

The new features of the work in the gymnasium have been the basketball league composed of 7 teams of 7 men each. Never before were so many so thoroughly interested in this game.

The intermediate class, which meets Tuesday and Saturday nights, is the largest class. As high as thirty men have been on the floor at once.

The senior class, which meets Monday and Friday nights, started out small but is now gaining new members every day and promises to be a strong class yet.

More business men are attending the Monday, Wednesday and Friday class (5 o'clock) than last year. 30 are enrolled and attend more or less regularly.

Their enthusiasm for Volley Ball does not seem to have abated any. Three times a week they play the game and play it hard.

The Juniors in two squads, the older boys on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 and Saturday morning at 8:30, the younger boys Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning at 10:30.

Much better work can be done in both groups in this way.

Juniors.

Beginning with the New Year some special features will be put on in the Junior Rooms twice a week. On Tuesday afternoon for the younger boys, on Thursday afternoon for the older boys.

The boys of each group will organize themselves into a club and with the Secretaries will contrive means of enjoyment and pleasure in the way of games, entertainments and excursions.

Religious Work.

The organization of the Religious Work Club last October gave the religious work this year a great impetus. Thirty five men have given themselves very faithfully to the promotion of the various phases of this important department of the Association's work.

Thirteen big meetings have been held in Taylor Hall on the Sunday afternoons since October 4, all addressed by out of town speakers. The average attendance has been nearly 200 for the 12 Sundays.

The Bible Study Groups, three of which have met each Sunday afternoon immediately after the men's meeting, have been a decided success. Between 30 and 40 men have attended regularly upon these studies on "The Life and Influence of Jesus."

Another happy outgrowth of the deeper religious interest was the share which the men of the Newark Association assumed in the support of Arthur Hugh, Ohio's man in China. Of the $100 assumed, seventy-five $1.00 shares have already been taken and it is thought the other 25 can easily be secured.

A thriving boy's class meets every Sunday at 2 o'clock in the parlor for the study of the Travels of Paul. Not one of the Association's classes has larger promise of good in it than this class for bright boys.

Any resume of the Association's activities must of necessity be incomplete. The best things can not be tabulated. The spirit of good fellowship which pervades the place; the quiet yet none the less effective influence constantly being exerted upon hundreds of young men who spend their leisure hours there, the taste for better things unconsciously acquired; these constitute the real and the highest worth of the institution; it is for these things that the business men of this city are willing to contribute money, and the secretaries, board members and committeemen do constantly labor.

MONEY TALKS.

A GOOD PLACE FOR YOUR MONEY.

The Newark Telephone Company has for sale a limited amount of its PREFERRED STOCK, bearing six per cent interest payable January 1 and July 1 each year. This stock is NON-TAXABLE and this makes the investment worth to the owner of the stock NINE PER CENT NET. $13,000 of this stock has already been taken at par by some of the most conservative investors of the city. It is safe and sure.

If you invest NOW you will get the July first dividend in full. Apply to Harry Swisher, President; C. H. Spencer, Secretary, or Edward Kibler, Treasurer. The Newark Telephone Co., C. E. Hollander, Manager.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

Newark, Ohio, December 5, 1903. The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples National Bank for the election of directors, will be held in the directors' room of the bank on January 12, 1904, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, d&w 12-23-tf President.

THE RAILWAYS

Fireman O. F. Charles has been confined to the house for several days with sickness, but is now much better. J. E. Davis, general foreman of the Baltimore and Ohio shops at this point, has resigned his position.

A number of Baltimore and Ohio firemen have been examined during the past few days for promotion to engineers.

F. C. Scott, who has been filling the important position of foreman of the B. & O. round house, has been promoted to the position of general foreman of the shops, made vacant by the resignation of J. E. Davis.

Fireman Morahan has been granted a short leave of absence. Engine 1697, after having undergone a complete overhauling in the shops here, has been turned out, and made her initial trip to Columbus on Thursday with Engineer John Gough and Fireman Ray Jurg in charge.

William McAdams, of the round house, has earned a well deserved promotion. He is now assistant foreman of the shops, made vacant by the resignation of J. E. Davis.

AMUSEMENTS.

Porter J. White's Francisco de Rimini at the Auditorium this afternoon will also be seen at the Newark theatre this evening.

Lincoln J. Carter's great melodramatic treat entitled, "The Two Little Walls" will be seen at the Auditorium on Thursday, January 7.

One of the principal features of the performance is the acting of the two children who have the title role. From the start they elicit an intense sympathy from the audience by their intelligent conduct. The story is one of double dealing, heart breakings, adversity and final happiness. It takes five interesting acts to out all the characters through their parts and these five acts are made abundantly pleasing by scenic effects that are up to Mr. Carter's standard. There are moving clouds, a rising moon, a lawn fete and a Christmas toy shop to complete the realism of the play.

The waifs are the children of one

Wayne Fleming, who has been mistaken as to his wife's dutifulness through the machinations of Lyman Penderville. The whole action of the play appeals to every man, woman's and child's sympathy and comes within the scope of every person's intelligence. Richard II, Pinkie and Officer Planigan furnish the comedy element and their laughable speeches are always pleasing and mirth provoking. The play as a whole is full of action, ginger and comedy and the story is unusually well told and consistent in its dialogue.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb,

Vice-President of Women's Democratic Clubs of Northern Ohio.

There are many sickly women between the ages of 45 and 55, but there are very few invalids over 55 and 60 years of age. The change of life coming to a woman near her forty-fourth year, either makes her an invalid or gives her a new lease on life. Those who meet this change in ill health seldom live ten years afterward, while a woman who lays aside the active duties of womanhood in health seldom fails to live on in happiness, years after she has passed 60. This is truly a critical time.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, of Toledo, Ohio, recognizes the change of life as a dangerous period and she also has faith in Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"As I had always been troubled more or less at the menstrual period, I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. While visiting with a friend I noticed that she was taking your Wine of Cardui, and she was so enthusiastic about it that I decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax. I do not dread it now, as I am sure that your Wine of Cardui will be of great benefit at this time."

Wine of Cardui is the remedy to re-inforce a woman against the shock that comes with the change of life. It re-establishes healthy functions after years of suffering. In doing this it has saved thousands of sufferers just in time. Do not wait until suffering is upon you. Thorough preparations should be made in advance. Begin the Wine of Cardui treatment today.

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

In the City of Newark is About One-Third of Population.

Some Interesting Statistics Carefully Gathered by The Advocate from the Ministers of the City --Number of Teachers and Pupils in Sunday Schools.

The Advocate has gathered, with considerable difficulty, the church statistics of Newark, and from these it is learned that the number of church members of all denominations is in the neighborhood of 7,234, about one-third of the population of the city.

Of this number over two-thirds are women, there being but 2,635 of the male sex belonging to churches, and of this number 645 are below the age of 21 years.

A table showing the number of church members and the number of each sex is here given:

Males—	Adults	1,916
Minors	645
Total	2,561

Females—	Adults	3,462
Minors	1,077
Total	4,539
Grand Total	7,234

There are 4,682 members of the various Sunday schools in the city, consisting of 300 teachers, 2,706 scholars and 2,406 Bible class scholars. The latter figures are a fair index to the number of active church members in the city. They are the ones that take an active hand in all church work and are present, rain or shine.

There is certainly room for evangelism in Newark, yet it is safe to say that the church membership of Newark does not fall as low as that of most of the larger cities.

Newark has good churches, able and sincere ministers and active church workers and everything that can be done is being done to gather in the outsiders.

RECEPTION

HELD AT THE WHITE HOUSE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Long Line of People in Waiting Before the President's Family Were Ready to Receive.

Washington, Jan. 1.—"Delighted," said the president. He said it about seven thousand times to seven thousand people, shaking hands as he said it. They all said, "Thank you," and wished Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt a Happy New Year. Thus in a few sentences today's interesting function at the White House may be epitomized. The New Year's reception for 1904 passed off more satisfactorily than any before, because the alterations in the executive mansion are better adapted to the handling of crowds and are more conducive to the comfort of visitors when they come in large numbers. A line of people stretching out to Pennsylvania avenue was in waiting long before the president and his wife and those in the blue room had exchanged formal greetings with the diplomats and government officials who had come to pay their annual duty calls. Not until nearly one o'clock were the first of those reached who had come just because they wanted to, without the ethics of official etiquette to urge them on. The line was then more than half a mile long.

Remember the Hospital.

The death of Mr. Christian Weipert in the year 1903 disclosed the fact that he had by will left the sum of $500 to the City Hospital.

One may not feel able to make a cash donation of any considerable sum to charity, but many are able to duplicate the good example he has set.

If all of your New Year resolutions have not already been made, take this into consideration. Resolve to make some provision for the Newark hospital; set aside a certain sum payable at your death to go into a charity endowment fund for the City Hospital. You will never miss the money, and the hospital at some future time will reap the benefit of your charity. Money is needed to carry on this work and care for the poor and unfortunate in our midst. No charity should appeal more to anybody than this. No charity deserves support more than does the hospital.

The watch party at the Presbyterian church last night was declared off on account of the scarcity of gas.

OHIO FARMERS

Will Gather in Convention at Columbus, Jan. 12

Columbus, O., Jan. 1.—The annual gathering of farmers in Columbus will occur week after next. The State Farmers' Institute will meet on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 12 and 13, at the Board of Trade auditorium, and on Thursday, January 14, at the same place the state board of agriculture will be held. In addition to these meetings, sessions will be held by the various sub-organizations, sheep and swine breeders, forestry society, fair presidents, cattlemen, horse breeders, etc. The meetings bring great numbers of farmers to the city.

The program for the various meetings has just been given out together with an invitation to all persons interested to participate.

OLD AGE

Depends Not Upon Years, But Upon Vital Force.

A GREAT DISCOVERY TO WARD OFF OLD AGE.

In Newark lately there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to old people. Some at 50 years call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at 70 years seem active, vigorous and young.

A reporter of the Advocate happened in the store of Frank D. Hall, our local druggist, the other evening, and this subject was brought up. Said Mr. Hall: "It is a fact, and we see it illustrated every day right here in Newark; it is not years, old age does not begin at any set time, but it is less of vital force that makes a person old. Weakened digestion, thin blood, and poor circulation soon start functional powers and vitality on the wane and then the symptoms of old age quickly appear. You know a man is as old as he feels."

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Hall, "that old feeling may be ward off, and I wish every person in Newark who feels old, whether they are so in years or not, would try the great discovery, Vinol. I know that it has vital principles which will in a natural manner strengthen digestion, assimilation and all the functional powers, send rich, red blood coursing through the veins, and give new life to every organ of the body, and this is what makes the old feel young again."

Mrs. H. W. Avery of Norwich, N. Y., writes: "At the age of 59 I felt the need of a tonic, something to strengthen and build me up. For a year and a half I have taken Vinol, and I have found that it brings vigor and life to the aged as nothing else will."

Mrs. Sarah J. Windom (cousin to the late United States President, Zachary Taylor) 423 West Erie street, Chicago, who is 76 years old, says Vinol is a godsend to old people. So also writes Mr. George L. Jones, Sr., of 19 Perrine avenue, Jersey City, and A. J. Baker, of 713 Locust street, Evansville, Ind.

Vinol repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength. It is an ideal body builder for old folks.

We promise you that Vinol is, first of all, agreeable, because it contains no fishy oil. Second, that it is a genuine food liver medicine, containing all the medicinal curatives and strength-making elements taken direct from fresh cods' livers; and third, we will return your money if it does not do exactly what we claim for it. Frank D. Hall, Druggist.

GINTHER-MILLER.

Mr. A. S. Ginter, a well-known and popular young man of Newark, and proprietor of the Newark Box Factory, and Miss Florence Miller, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Orlando Miller, the West Main street druggist, were married on Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents on West Church street and was performed by the Rev. Father B. M. O'Boylan, in the presence only of the immediate family of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Ginter, who have the best wishes of a large circle of friends, will make their home with the parents of the bride.

GRANVILLE

Granville, O., Jan. 1.—One of the prettiest social functions held here this winter was the fancy dress party given by Miss Mabel Butterfield at her home on Thursday night. The affair was given in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss Butterfield to quite a number of her young lady friends. The rooms of the Butterfield house were handsomely decorated with holly and flowers. The diversions consisted of the evening consisted of games of all kinds, and in watching the old year go out. The young ladies present wore handsome tissue paper dresses, each representing a different flower. During the latter part of the evening an elegant lunch was served. There was a large cake, containing prizes, consisting of a gold ring, thimble, a penny and a button. Miss Annie Rhodes drew the slice of cake containing the gold ring. Miss Mary Ferguson captured the thimble. Miss Pearl Ferguson the penny and Miss Mary Tuttle the button. A handsome prize of a beautiful gold hat pin was offered to the young lady composing the best verse of poetry, with illustrations, which was won by Miss Mary Ferguson. After watching the birth of the new year all left for their several homes, having greatly enjoyed the pleasures of the evening.

GAS SUPPLY SHORT.

Many Granville people who are users of natural gas suffered greatly on Thursday for lack of gas. Many two blocks were compelled to burn coal and wood while others did their cooking on stoves of their neighbors. Today, however, there is plenty of gas.

"Francesca de Rimini."

The story of "Francesca de Rimini" like the stories of all great plays, is characterized by simplicity. The action is swift and direct. The motives that hasten the action to its inevitable climax are those most human of emotions—Love, Hate and Revenge. Without an appeal to the gallery the play reaches its heart and stirs the same manner that the less artistic presentations do.

Great plays have something in them for both classes and masses. This latest tragedy, "Francesca de Rimini," offers entertainment to both and serves it on a golden platter. Auditorium this afternoon and tonight.

A remedy that is used by all civilized nations must be a good one. In every language people praise the Anchor Pain Expeller for rheumatism and every form of muscular and nervous pain. 25c and 50c.

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The succession of Oscar G. Murray to the Baltimore and Ohio presidency, vacated by L. F. Loree, who has gone to the chief executive place of the Rock Island company, is said not to indicate any change of policy or relations of the Baltimore and Ohio. Nobody is better acquainted with the condition of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad than is Mr. Murray. His long service as one of the receivers when the property was in trouble, no less than his high order of practical ability as a railroad man, fits him peculiarly for the post to which he has been promoted. It remains to be seen, however, whether or not there is to be any change in the property's relations. Mr. Murray and Mr. Loree worked in perfect harmony while the one was vice president and the other president of the company, but if persistent rumors are true neither of them has been in full accord with some of the powerful interests represented in the company's present directory.

It is announced from Europe that when he returns home the Hon. William Jennings Bryan will advocate the building by the government of suitable residences for its ambassadors and ministers to foreign countries. This is something that should have been done years ago. Our representatives abroad are the poorest paid men in the world's diplomatic service. Some of them actually pay more for house rent than their salaries amount to. All of the leading nations either now own or are negotiating for suitable residences for their representatives at Washington. Besides providing them with commodious living and business quarters-free, the foreign governments represented at Washington pay larger salaries and make liberal expense allowances for entertainments, etc. This system does not shut poor men out of the diplomatic service, as does ours. At Pekin this government is now constructing a legation building, but that is the only foreign capital in which steps have been taken to provide a comfortable house for an American diplomat.

In special correspondence from Panama to the New York Tribune, one of the staunchest and most intelligent of the administration organs, it is stated that "seven men, aided by the soldiers and others whose support had been purchased, were alone responsible for the sudden revolution in the political status of Panama." This does not sound very well when placed side by side with President Roosevelt's declaration, contained in his annual message to congress, that the people of Panama "rose as one man." The Tribune's correspondent throws an illuminating sidelight on another interesting phase of the subject, too. He says: "Were the people of the other provinces consulted? They were not. Were the people of Colon and Panama City let into the secret? They were not." These revelations lead to this question: Who misled the President so outrageously in this Panama business? Mr. Roosevelt himself may have to look into this aspect of the case before it is closed and appeal to his countrymen to pardon him for the wretched error he was induced to make through the misrepresentations of false friends.
